

Tim

Bright, courteous, well spoken and charming are four ways to describe this almost 13 year old boy. Tim enjoys "technical stuff" such as electronics and computers. One of his favorite activities is inventing things and working on go-carts. He is a good student and his favorite subjects are math and science. Tim has an older sister and a younger brother whom he maintains a relationship with through visits.

Tim has experienced a number of challenges in his life and he needs a family who will provide him with support on many levels. Most important to Tim is a family that values his relationships with his brother and sister. As a young man who thrives with attention, a family where he could be the only child or one where the older children are adults and on their own would be the best match for Tim.
